STRESS: Can You Cope?

In the fast paced high tech world of today, the emphasis is often put on the body beautiful. From Jack LeLane to Jane Fonda, Americans today are caught up in the battle of the bulge.

The Avila College Student Union Board recognizes the fact that physical well-being is indeed important, and a necessary part of life. But they also hold the belief that mental well-being is worth every bit its weight in muscle.

Any "average Joe" can tell you that a high calorie intake and too little exercise will quickly leave you trudging through the valley of fat.

But how many know of that one thing, that causes more harm to our mental equilibrium than anything else? Not too many. Very simply the answer is STRESS.

As this world becomes more difficult, learning to cope with stress in everyday environment becomes more important.

Excessive stress can manifest itself in all kinds of maladies, migraines, headaches, ulcers, neurotic and psychotic disorders are just a few and all of these are considered stress related or stress caused. And certainly the college student can feel, the draining effects of stress.

The Avila College Student

Union Board recognizes all these facts, and in response they will sponsor a stress lecture, to be held on November 29 at 7:00 p.m. in the Marian Centre Lounge. The lecture will be given by Mrs. Nancy Olthoff, who has a Masters Degree in Counseling Psychology.

At the lecture students and faculty can learn how to cope with their stress more efficiently, by first understanding what causes stress, and by understanding how we perceive it. You will also be exposed to methods of dealing with stress, and will have the opportunity to actively participate in a stress reduction technique. Also there will be time for discussion, and for any questions you may have concerning the topic.

In today's society stress has become as American as apple pie. High levels of stress benefit no-one. So be sure to come to the stress lecture, and begin to learn to cope with the stress in your lives.

Nursing faculty members hold state positions

Two Avila nursing faculty members have recently been elected to the positions of president and treasurer of the Missouri Nursing Association, (MONA).

Nancy Barr, who will serve a two-year term as MONA president with the possibility of being re-elected for an additional two years, is beginning her fourth year at Avila as the Project Director for Re-entry into the Nursing Program.

Mary Fran Roberts, who will also serve a two-year term as MONA treasurer with the possibility for re-election, has been at Avila for twelve years as the Coordinator of Mental Health, Nursing.

Both women enjoy nursing and anticipate the challenge and adventure their roles offer them.

Nancy Barr grew up in Marshall, Missouri and moved to Kansas City over twenty years ago. She attended St. Mary Hospital School of Nursing and received her Bachelor of Science and Nursing degree in 1975 from Avila.

She decided to go into the nursing profession because she always wanted to help her fellow man; she felt that nurses made many contributions important to society.

As president, Nancy Barr said her primary responsibilities are to "preside at the board meetings of MONA, chair executive meetings of MONA, determine the concerns of Missouri nurses as they relate to nursing issues, and develop strategies for resolving issues."

In addition, she will promote the image of nursing and identify MONA as a strong voice for health care issues in Missouri. She will also represent the state of Missouri at the American Nursing Association meeting and represent the nursing association at civic and social functions as well as at conferences where other health care professionals are involved.

Mrs. Barr is looking forward to the "challenge of being president" as well as to being able to make a significant impact and contribution to the state of the art of nursing in Missouri.

Mary Fran Roberts, the newly elected treasurer of MONA, grew up in St. Joseph, Missouri and moved to Kansas City twenty years ago. She received her Masters in Nursing from the University of Kansas.

As a result of World War II, she became interested in the nursing profession because she felt it was the best way she could serve her country. Although Mary Fran entered the profession with fear and trepidation, she found that she liked it from the start.

Mrs. Roberts said her main duty as treasurer is to "develop a budget that will keep our operating expenses within our means". Money is needed for a variety of functions.

It is needed to support MONA's state office in Jefferson City and for lobbying at the state legislature for nursing interests.

MONA is the state affiliate of the American Nurses Association and, as such, is the official representative of nursing in the United States for registered nurses.

With 3300 members, MONA is the largest group of organized nurses in the state of Missouri and considers itself the spokes-person for nursing issues in Missouri.

Membership in the organization is strictly voluntary, based on an ability to pay dues to the organization. These dues are used in managing executive offices and personnel, lobbying, providing operational fees, retaining a lawyer, and supporting nurses in activities that strengthen MONA's mission.

In addition, the dues are used to finance a legislative bulletin and a magazine, which is published four times a year.

Nancy Barr emphasized the support she has received at Avila will make her role as MONA president easier. MONA, which was originally organized in Kansas City, has not had a president elected from Kansas City in the past thirty years, so this is a special honor.

Theme: 'Integrating Faith, Justice'— Day of prayer to increase awareness

"Integrating Faith and Justice" is the theme chosen for a day of prayer, sharing, and insight into the needs of the poor. It will be held on Sunday, November 13, from 10:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. in Marian Centre Snack Bar.

Three Avila students, Lora Mitchell, Maria Meysenburg, and Lynn Moore will share their experience of living with the poor. Lora, Maria, and Lynn represented Avila at a weekend for college students held at Shalom Catholic Worker House on October 21-23.

They had the opportunity to participate in an alternative way of life dedicated to the poor and to peace. During the weekend they lived, ate, worked, and prayed with the poor as well as explored their own personal values.

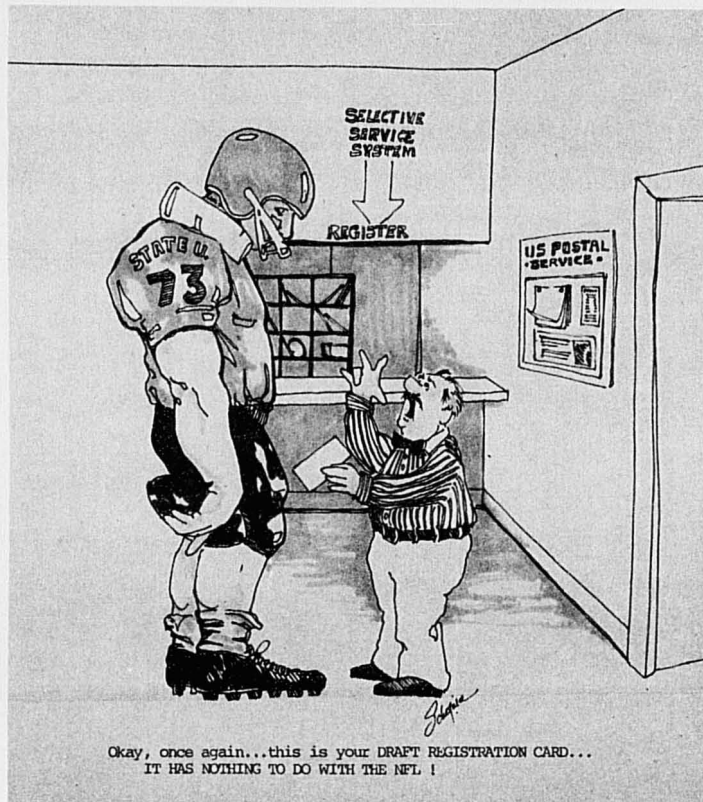

Lora said of the experience, "I want to go back. It was a terrific experience that awakened in me a desire to be with the poor."

All activities for the day of prayer are structured with an outward thrust and will provide time for input, prayer, sharing, and discussion. Hopefully, participants will glean insights into their own faith response to the poor.

Members of the Avila community will also have the opportunity to share in ministry to the poor during "A Week of Thanksgiving" which will be held on campus November 9-16. Faculty, staff, students, will have the opportunity to contribute money to be given to Catholic Worker House to assist the staff in providing food, shelter, and meeting other needs of the poor.

"The Week of Thanksgiving" will be brought to a close with an Interfaith Thanksgiving Service to be held in Foyle Hall chapel at 4:00 p.m. on November 16.

Faculty, staff, students, will participate in a ceremony, presenting their offering as a sign of gratefulness for their own gifts and a commitment to be with and for the poor. Thereby, experiencing the meaning of the words, "It is in giving that we receive."

Title III funds Reader-printer For student use

Student Government Highlights Senators

Margaret Michaelis

Editor's Note: In order to better inform the Avila College community about Student Government, the Avila Examiner is starting a series of profiles of all departmental Senators. Senators represent their department (for example, Business or Nursing) to the Senate and, likewise, represent Student Government to their department. All Senators have their own individual mailboxes located in Marian Centre in the Student Activities Conference Room.

Margaret Michaelis

Margaret Michaelis, a junior, represents the Natural and Allied Health Sciences and Mathematics department. She is a Respiratory Therapy major with an emphasis in management, and is employed part time at Stix, Baer, and Fuller.

Margaret felt the need to get involved for a variety of reasons. "I was a commuter student and I really felt left out. I wasn't involved in high school and I wanted to learn about how the school was run."

As a senator Margaret has discovered some unexpected things.

Mary Beckwith

"I learned how many meetings teachers have to attend. It's more complex than I realized. Also, the teachers want to be so helpful to students, and an ordinary student just doesn't realize it."

Margaret has found that belonging to Student Government has "made school interesting and fun. The College feels like a family to me instead of just an organization."

Mary Beckwith

Mary Beckwith represents the Nursing Department. The sophomore from Barnett, Mo. is employed in the Bookstore. Although carrying 18 hours this semester, Mary has found time to serve as Senator for Student Government. "I like to stay involved with the campus and feel like I'm a part of Avila," she says.

Mary also enjoys making costumes for the Avila theatre department productions and is tentatively joining the Avila Student Nurses Organization.

Mary, a nursing major believes the faculty at Avila are caring. "The faculty really is willing to work and interact with us. The faculty seems really interested in the students."

Student group Serves as Avila Hosts/Hostesses

The Avila Ambassadors is a selectively chosen group of students who act as hosts and hostesses to Avila College.

As an extension of the Admissions Office, these students give campus tours, host prospective students who visit the campus, and act as host/hostesses at college receptions and other functions.

The Avila Ambassadors are available to be of assistance with any on-campus departmental receptions, seminars, meetings, etc. where one could utilize door greeters, coat checkers, punch-pourers or tour-givers.

Please keep the organization in mind when bringing prospective faculty members and their guests to campus. Often, these people enjoy the opportunity to interact with students, noted Deb Lewis, Ambassador Advisor.

For further information contact Deb Lewis in the Admissions Office, Lower Blasco Hall.

This year's Avila Ambassadors are senior, Karen Aubuchon; juniors, Lori Connors, Arleen Portell, Carolyn Selter, Dianna Stuhrenberg, Linda Bernskoetter (Head Ambassador); and sophomores, Ginger Coldsnow, Lynn Sanders, Lisa WasDyke, and Kelly Walsh.

Four nursing students Earn V.A. scholarships

The professional nursing staff of the nation's largest health care system was augmented when Everett Alvarez, Jr., Deputy Administrator of Veterans Affairs, formally awarded scholarship contracts to four Avila nursing students of the 341 selectees in the second year of the agency's Health Professional Scholarship Program.

The four Avila nursing students receiving the scholarships are Nancy Elizabeth Forsythe, Sandy K. Schmid, Roberta Seger, and Cheryl Hernandez.

Funded for $6.2 million this year, the Congressionally established program provides support for baccalaureate and master's nursing students on a pay-back-in-service basis. Last year, 344 awards were made, and about a third of those awardees have had arrangements made for their service obligation. In return for each year of the scholarship — which provides tuition, educational expenses and a monthly stipend — participants serve one year as full-time registered nurses in VA medical centers, with a minimum obligation of two years.

The new awards were announced at a special ceremony in Washington, D.C., attended by members of the Veterans Affairs Committees of both the House and the Senate, officials from national nursing organizations and professional societies, Alvarez, and VA's Chief Medical Director Donald L. Custis, M.D.

Scholarship participants entered into contracts with the agency to receive educational support for the school term that began this fall. One hundred and one participants received one-year scholarships; 240 received scholarships for more than one year. The average amount of support provided this year's participants is $18,000.

Emphasizing the program's value as an employee retention tool, Dr. Custis noted that 55 VA-employed nurses are recipients of this year's scholarships. The agency employs 30,000 professional nurses.

Three hundred and seven of this year's participants are seeking baccalaureate degrees; 34 are studying for their master's degrees. The master's students are pursuing specialties particularly needed by the VA, including gerontology, medical/surgical and adult psychiatric/mental health, and nursing administration.

Department includes Two main categories

One of the most active departments on campus is the Department of Continuing Education. According to Dave Storm, Assistant Professor of Social Work and acting director of the department, continuing education encompasses two main categories.

"The first category is aimed at the post-Baccalaureate student and is related to skill development," he said. "For instance, the nursing and social work fields require that periodically the practitioner receive additional training."

"The second area is general interest learning, where the general public may come and learn about a topic," he said.

The Department of Continuing Education also administers the College-Level Examination Program, in which students may earn credit hours by examination.

The department is going to hold a seminar on Women and the Political Process on Saturday, Nov. 12. It is sponsored by the Greater Kansas City Women's Political Caucus, the Kansas City Metropolitan Regional Commission on the Status of Women, the YWCA, the League of Women Voters of Kansas City, the Avila College Women's Leadership Institute, and the Avila College Women's Studies Program.

Also, two seminars in Communications will be held November 10 and 17, on leadership styles and executive speaking.

Tall, strong describes men's team

by Avila Sports Information
October 18, 1983
MEN'S BASKETBALL

Tall and strong. These two words might best describe the 1983-84 Avila Avalanche. This year's squad is the biggest in Avila history and is likely to be one of the biggest teams in the district.

In addition its size, this year's team has the potential to be even better defensively than last years team which was in the NAIA's top 15 in the nation. Their rebounding should be improved as well.

On the offensive side the backcourt should be strong in shooting as well as several players on the front line who can shoot well and consistently from the outside. The team will play a conservative style game, utilizing the size and strength.

Returning to the Avalanche from last years squad are guards Tom Saunders, Tom Bedenstab and Rich Murdock. Returnin on the front line are Ralph Burton, Mike Mount and Curtis Nelson. New to this year's team are transfer students Jerry French, Brad Bond, Rick Smith, Jeff Thompson, and freshman Craig Kliethermes. Former Avila players Larry Larkin and Chuck Allen will be this years assistant coaches.

Women's team to have best year ever

This could be the best year ever for Avila College women's basketball. Avila returns seven players, including three starters from last year's squad. In addition Avila will add six new players.

Linda Hall, Ginger Coldsnow, and Teresa Crimi are the three returning starters. Kathy Hale and Donna Babich are returning for their third seasons in Avila uniforms. Donna Malone and Kelly McKion return to solidify the front line. New to the squad will be Laurie Roder, an all-state player from St. Louis, Mo. Adding leadership and experience will be Shaun Gough and Judie Burkhalter, transfers from Missouri Southern. Other freshmen joining the team are Mary Kay Nason, Dana Ober, and Susan Barth.

Avila will use a triple post offense this year to compliment their large and talented front line of Hall, Coldsnow and Roder. The three could develop into one of the best front lines in the district. They will be working to compensate for a lack of overall team speed. Avila lost quickness with the graduation of Darby Chambers and the departure of Joy Williams.

The Lady Avalanche has a demanding schedule this year, playing area powers; UMKC, Missouri Western, Missouri Southern, Washburn, Pittsburg State, and William Woods.

SOCCER

This Saturday Avila will host Lindenwood in a rematch of last year's District 16 title game. Avila prevailed in that game 4-1, and advanced to the National Championships.

Avila will be looking to get its offense rolling again after being shutout in its last two matches. Benedictine defeated Avila 1-0 by scoring a goal late in the game. William Jewell and Avila battled to a 0-0 overtime tie.

In the Jewell game Avila outshot the Cardinals 38-8. Little went right for Avila as they also had several starters injured. Coach Scott Ferris was pleased that his team was taking more initiative on the offensive end.

VOLLEYBALL

Avila will be trying to add two more District wins to their record this Thursday night when they play Park and Missouri Valley in a tri-lateral match at Avila.

They will also be trying to start another winning streak after their 6-match streak was snapped by Rockhurst. It took the Hawkettes five games to defeat Avila in a hard fought match. The scores were 16-14, 13-15, 15-7, 5-15, and 15-1.

On Saturday Avila heads south to play Pittsburg State and Labette County in a tri-lateral match.

SOCCER

One of Kansas City's biggest soccer rivalries takes to the field again this Saturday when Avila (5-3-1) hosts Rockhurst (7-3). The game is set to begin at 2:00 p.m. on Avila's field. The Avalanche enters the game with a recent 2-0 shutout over Lindenwood.

It was the fourth shutout of the year posted by the Avalanche defense. it was also one of the team's best overall performances of the year according to coach Scott Ferris. Ferris also said the team has progressed more in the past week and a half than it has at any other time in the season.

He says the Rockhurst team is strong on defense and skills and plays a very similar game to Avila's.

Against Lindenwood Avila scored a goal in each half. Larry Larson drove the ball in from 25 feet out for the first goal with an assist from Scott Huber. Tim LaBeau scored the second half goal with an assist from Matt Tierney.

In the coming weeks Avila will be looking for continued improvement in their offense and to maintain their strong defense. The combination should bring Avila another trip to the playoffs this year.

SOCCER 11-3-2

The No. 17 NAIA ranked Avila Avalanche will be aiming for win number 12 this Sunday against Creighton University. Avila will also be using the game as a tune-up for the District 16 playoffs. Sunday's game will be the last regular match of the season for Avila.

Tabor fell to the Avalanche yesterday 9-1. Tim La Beau led the scoring barrage with three goals. Also scoring goals were Scott Huber, Matt Tierney, Ryan Roberts, Marty Carrow, Larry Larson and Neil Kelly. Scoring assists on the goals wer Tim Flynn (2), Larson (2), Tierney and Roberts.

Coach Scott Ferris says the two areas his team will be working on before the playoffs are restarts and man to man marking on defense. He says some of the players to watch in the playoffs include goalie Tom Hampel (8 shutouts), mfdfielders Scott Huber (opening goal last two games), Neil Kelly (outstanding on defense), Larry Larson (currently playing his best of the year) and All-American back Craig Kasten who's had another outstanding season.
